DRAMA at The Rose Offers

- ★ ACTING
- ★ IMPROVISATION
- ★ DIRECTING
- ★ PLAYWRITING
- ★ STAGECRAFT
- ★ PUPPETRY
- ★ FILMMAKING

DRAMA at The Rose helps students enhance their creativity and imagination with professionally instructed classes in acting, playwriting, directing, stagecraft, puppetry, filmmaking, improvisation, and more.

Fun, theme-oriented classes that promote ensemble work, as well as individual skill building and personal development, are core components of this program.

Many classes offer performance opportunities, and older students are invited to take part in Teens 'N' Theater – a unique program that gives participants exposure to multiple facets of planning and producing a season of seven teen-only shows.

All skill levels are welcome, and classes are offered quarterly, with some longer classes offered as two or three semester classes to build skill development throughout the year.

After-School Drama Classes with Spring Performance

After-School Drama Classes are for students wishing to build a strong theatrical foundation. Each class provides a two-year curriculum that challenges students of all experience levels to reach new heights in terms of skill development and theatrical knowledge. Each class is co-taught by two professional teaching artists, and the 90-minute class period allows for concentrated learning and the development of strong ensemble relationships.

After completing the fall and winter classes, students can work towards a Spring Performance that is appropriate to the class level. Students rehearse twice a week for five weeks before presenting a 20-minute production live at The Rose – complete with costumes, lights, and sound!
