THEATER CLUB

INFORMATION AT A GLANCE

- Recent studies show students tend to get into the most trouble after school
- Theater Club was created as an after school program for kids to have fun and learn theater
- Theater Club provides students an after school program two times a week for one hour for the entire school year
- Always have new, fresh projects
- Learn ensemble work, acting, improvisation and more
- The Rose is a provider for the after school program operated by the Collective for Youth

A recent study found that middle school students tend to get into the most trouble after school when they are unsupervised and without structured activities. The Rose's Theater Club was created to be an after school program for kids to have fun, be with friends and learn the art of theater. The Rose provides drama instructions for one hour a day, twice a week for the entire school year where students can participate in Theater Club.

Two Rose artist educators at each school teach ensemble work, acting, improvisation and some other special topics such as playwrighting, musical theater and design. With each new school year comes new projects and the educators strive to bring the best out of every student.

This program is run under the umbrella of Collective for Youth, which provides after school programming for youth in Omaha.

the Rose